

Faith
November 30, 2014

Hebrews 10:32–11:2

Faith is not:

Faith is not the opposite of _____.

We often make faith appear this way when we use the phrases:

_____ faith

_____ faith

The opposite of reason is _____.

The opposite of faith is _____.

Faith is:

Faith is similar to and sometimes synonymous with _____.

The author of Hebrews calls faith, “being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we do not see” (Hebrews 11:1, NIV).

God is the proper person for us to place our faith/trust in because he is _____ / _____

Our faith grows as we learn to trust in ourselves _____ and to trust in God _____.

Faith is tested when our circumstances make disbelief _____ than belief.

The testing of faith develops _____ (James 1:3).

This begins the process which leads to _____ (Romans 5:1–5).

Sermons available online at www.fumcquanah.org